The purpose of coaching is to clarify your vision and purpose, set goals, and create action plans in alignment with your intentions. We will focus on moving you forward according to your agenda.

GUIDING YOUR BRAIN TOWARD CHANGE

- I have decided to change my mental environment for the better.
- I understand what I experience in my state of mind is projected outward.
- I know if my state of mind is one filled with doubt, fear, and conflict, I will project this state outward and it will be my experience.

- I know where my mind goes, so follow my emotions and behaviors.
- I am willing to discipline my thoughts to achieve my goals.

POSITIVE AFFIRMATIONS & DECLARATIONS

We all engage in continuous self-conversation about ourselves, other people, and our lives. This self-talk conversation influences our thinking, feelings, and eventually our behaviors. Too often a negative voice is the one we hear in our self-talk. Positive affirmations and declarations are a powerful way of replacing negative thoughts with positive statements of self-empowerment.

Follow these guidelines to create positive self-affirmations:

- Present Tense (“I AM”)
Take a stance and state your conversation in the present tense, as if it already exists - “I am...”
- Positive
State your conversation in a positive way
- Personal
Keep it simple, personal, powerful, and realistic for you
- Passion
State and rehearse your conversation with passion
- Practice
Repeat your affirmation and declaration many times each day. Practice for a minimum of 21 continuous days. Post the affirmation on a 3 x 5 card

Examples of Affirmations and Declarations

- I am growing, trusting myself, and moving forward.
- I am strong and I am meeting all of my challenges.
- I am lovable, nurturing, and capable—I am reaching my desired goals.
- I am making this declaration for life-long health.
- I chose to trust myself, to make wise choices for my life, and I will continue to do so.
